Based on your feedback, we now have a better understanding of what the conference represents for the community. We are working on the second edition which will be even better... You will enjoy it.

Our goal is to keep the same pace than last year: a friendly atmosphere, time for discussion, a wide variety of talk subjects, a world wide attendance. On the other end, we are working on improving ourself for: the timing, the check-in process, the catering, and many other details that can make the difference.

See you on July, 5-6th 2018 for the second edition
